

ACA Promotions Manager

- Are you a creative thinker?
- Are you results driven and naturally organized?
- Do you have experience with advertising and promotions?
- Do you have a passion for taking projects and organizations to the next level?
- Are you interested in learning about Americans living abroad?

If you can answer yes to the above questions, you are the volunteer we are looking for and we need you on board with us today!

American Citizens Abroad, ACA, Inc. www.americansabroad.org funds its advocacy work through memberships, donations and advertising.

Our organization does important work to educate, advocate and inform the US Congress and Administration on issues affecting the 9 million Americans living and working overseas.

We need a volunteer who is excited to learn about the issues and able to develop promotional efforts to help support our work and increase ACA's awareness.

Our organization needs someone with advertising and promotional skills and with creative and leadership skills to take charge of developing high-impact promotions and partnerships.

In this role you will interact with key members of our management committee based in various countries. You will have excellent exposure to core issues affecting overseas Americans. Your ability to develop promotional campaigns to support specific advocacy efforts and increase ACA awareness will be of primary importance to growing and expanding our organization.

Please let us know if that volunteer is you!
